Description

Akyga® AK-USB-73 is a unique USB-C to Lightning cable that combines modern design with reliable functionality. Its vibrant green colour makes the cable stand out from typical accessories and adds a fresh touch to your everyday device set. With a length of 1 m, it is ideal for use at home, in the office or on the go – wherever fast charging and a stable connection are essential.

30 W power – fast iPhone charging

The AK-USB-73 cable supports charging power of up to 30 W, allowing you to take full advantage of Power Delivery and Apple 2.4A Charging technology. In practice, this means that your iPhone can charge up to 50% in about 30 minutes. It's the perfect choice for those who want to always be ready for action and value fast, safe charging.

The perfect bridge between older devices and modern accessories

This Lightning to USB-C cable is the ideal solution for users of older iPhone or iPad models who already use modern USB-C chargers or new MacBooks. It allows you to take full advantage of their potential without having to replace your entire set of accessories.

Quick and reliable data synchronisation

In addition to charging, the Lightning cable provides stable USB 2.0 data transfer, allowing you to quickly transfer photos, videos and documents between Apple devices and your computer.

Silicone coating – comfort and durability

The flexible silicone insulation gives the cable strength and a pleasant-to-touch matte finish. The cable does not tangle and fits easily into a bag, making it the perfect travel companion.

Apple-compatible Lightning to USB-C cable

The Akyga® AK-USB-73 is fully compatible with iPhones, iPads and Apple accessories. It is suitable for both charging and data synchronisation, offering maximum comfort of use in any situation.
